My Wedding Wish is a registered national charity that has been gifting weddings to the terminally ill around Australia since 2013.

If you are a couple that is affected by terminal illness, or know someone who is in this position, visit our website www.myweddingwish.org

to find out how to become a Wish Recipient and apply for a gifted wedding.

Generous My Wedding Wish suppliers, along with community fundraising efforts, ensure our couples will have a care-free celebration, bringing together families and celebrating the beauty of love across Australia. Without our Wedding Wish suppliers, supporters and volunteers, the beautiful work My Wedding Wish does would never be possible.

How to Help

The number of weddings we provide each year is increasing and there are several ways in which you can help to support us, and our couples. To find out more, visit our website at:
